

The Gatekeepers: Inside the Admissions Process of a Premier College

By Jacques Steinberg

Penguin Books. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 320 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.3in. x 1.0in. From the fall of 1999 to the spring of 2000, New York Times education reporter Jacques Steinberg was given unparalleled access to an entire admissions season at Wesleyan University in Connecticut. In that time, he discovered just how difficult it could be to winnow down a list of nearly seven thousand applicants to seven hundred freshmen for the class of 2004. Steinberg follows an admissions officer and his eight counterparts through the daunting task of recruiting students nationwide, reading through each of their applications, and meeting behind closed doors for a week in March to finalize the incoming class. He also recounts the personal experiences of a half dozen high school seniors of various ethnic and economic backgrounds as they struggle through the often byzantine selection process. Find out why: high SATs and many extracurricular activities are not always critical a students story can either be helpful or detrimental one student with a 1480 SAT score and high grades can face stiff competition from another three thousand miles away whose board score is 900 and who has a handful of Ds on her report card an...

READ ONLINE
[2.96 MB]

Reviews

Very beneficial for all type of folks. It can be rally intriguing through studying time. You will like how the writer publish this ebook.

-- Nathan Cruickshank

Totally one of the better pdf I have at any time read through. It really is simplified but shocks within the 50 % from the ebook. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Mariano Spinka